*I can’t say enough about Tim’s speaking ability and inspiring message. His keynote kicked off our annual planning conference with a bang; his talk was the buzz for days and created deeper conversations in our meetings and breakouts. Almost a year later, members are still talking about Tim’s message and how the people who did not attend missed out. Tim’s influence has increased our organization’s openness to change, and I’m rolling out a new enterprise-wide program that employs the techniques Tim taught us.
